It is well known by those conversant with the dairy business, that in certain dairy sections in other States, creameries have been built, at which both butter and cheese are made from the same milk. A portion of the cream is taken from the milk and made into butter, and the milk thus skimmed is then made into cheese. This cheese is sold at a less price per pound than whole milk cheese, yet from the two products of butter and cheese, it is claimed that semething more is realized from.

The Brooklyn Scandal. The Plymeuth Church scandal still cont ues to be a leading topic in the newspapers Three years have now elapsed since vague hints began to be thrown out affecting the moral character of Mr. Beecher, and the public is still wholly in the dark respecting the real nature of the offences charged against him. At ntervals during these three years, Mr. Tilton who claims to have personal knowledge of the short comings of the great preacher, has threatened to make them public, but beyond dark hints and vague rumors, he has failed to gratify the public curiosity. The Indian Troubles. A dispatch from Kansas city giving an extract from a letter from Caddo, Indian Territory, states that a fight occurred between a company of the sixth a covarry, under Col. Carpenter, and a large body of Comanches, 30 miles west of Fort Sill. Col. Carpenter was badly wounded and six men were killed. The Indian's loss is unknown.

After the fight the Indians came upon the stage keeper and wife, killing, scalping, skinming and most shockingly mutilating the body of the keeper in the presence of his wife. The woman was carried into captivity. The latest that thay must have been inferior to their unknown was carried into captivity. The latest that they must have been inferior to their unknown of the physical development seems from these accounts of the Indians show that they attacked a party of wood-choppers, who, it was feared, have all been killed. The date of the fight is not given.

The first authentic mention we have of the appeal to arms for the settlement of differences is in the laws of Gundebald, A. D. 501, which are preserved in the ancient Burgundian code. It was founded, as a commentator has observed, on the presumption that a brave man did not deserve to live. The appeal was direct to God, in the unfaitering faith that he would protect the party whose quarrel was just. If the accused was victorious he was acquitted; if defeated, he suffered the penalties of the ofference charged against him. If the accuser was ranquished, he was held to have been the culpirit.
